Speaking of National Parks..... Here is a great idea, shared by Andee Bubak from York, NE. She asked her kids what four faces they would put on Mt. Rushmore if they had the choice. Below is one example of how the project turned out. Copies of the pictures with the essays were sent to their pen pals.

As you dismantle your classrooms for the end of the year, stop and think about which projects can be saved and sent to your pen pals. No need for them to end up in "file 13" when they could be the highlight of the day for a pen pal. Send them now, or send when you return in August.
