About this resource

This resource leads you through the process of developing and implementing reading circles tailored to the learning and skill goals of your unit.

In reading circles, students have the opportunity to practice reading, writing, listening and speaking. The project parameters encourage students to practice several important skills, in addition to showing mastery of your content area.

Learning Skill Focus

- Students conduct close reading and interpretation of a choice text,
- collaborate with peers in purposeful group roles, and
- reflect and take a position on the text’s meaning, structure, and purpose.

This project provides several opportunities for student choice. The templates for the student-facing materials are heavily scaffolded to support students who are still developing readers.

How to use this resource

Part 1: Project Brainstorming: Identify your learning goals and content parameters, choose your texts, and establish requirements for the final learning artifact (presentation, performance, etc.).

Part 2: Example Project: Review the example project for inspiration.

Part 3: Student Facing Materials: Edit and adapt templates to create student facing materials for your own project. Review and incorporate Opportunity Education’s twelve Learning Skills into your role creation sheets.
Part 1: Project Brainstorming

Use the prompts below to develop your project. You may want to preview the example project and the student facing materials templates first.

1. Identify content specific learning goals or skills for this project. (e.g., students will be able to analyze literary motifs, analyze evidence from a primary source, mimic a literary style, analyze text features, explain a concept, etc.)

2. Choose 4-5 texts for students to choose from. Chosen texts should allow students to meet the learning or skill goals you identified above.

   Each group of students will choose or be assigned a text to read and analyze throughout the unit. Texts can take any form or genre you choose: a novel, a series of short stories or poems, several informational texts/articles, etc.

   Text should be appropriately leveled for your group of students; you may wish to have a balance of higher-level texts, mid-level texts, and texts for students who need more support with reading. Texts should be engaging.

   Whichever kinds of texts you choose, consider the following criteria:
   - texts should share at least one common aspect (i.e. a shared theme or subject, similar genre, a shared prominent literary feature, similar text structure, etc.)
   - analysis of these texts will let students practice the desired skills and lead to a final product that achieves your learning goal.

   Need some inspiration for learning skill goals? Check out OE’s twelve !Learning Skills

Brainstorm text ideas using the table that follows.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Possible text and level</th>
<th>Unique features of this text</th>
<th>Purpose/meaning of this text</th>
<th>Potential learning and skill goals for this text</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Reading Circles| Page 2
3. Identify your parameters for student choice. Will students have free choice of text? Or will they learn about each text and then submit a list of their favorites, and you choose? How will you determine which students get which text?

4. Identify any other content specific learning goals or skills. (e.g., students will be able to analyze literary motifs, analyze evidence from a primary source, mimic a literary style, analyze text features, explain a concept, etc.)

5. Determine the format or genre for the final product. What will students create to show what they learned from the text? How will this final product support the learning and skill goals? Will students complete the final product individually, or in groups?

6. Decide how you want students to share their final project (e.g. in person performance, recorded video, etc.)
Part 2: Example Project

Independent Novel Reading Circles

Project Overview:
You will choose one of seven novels to read for the next few weeks. You are responsible for reading your entire novel and being prepared for classroom activities. On reading due dates, you must come in having read your section of the novel in its entirety so that you may complete each daily activity and contribute to your group's discussion. Today, we will choose your novels! After I read a brief review of each novel, please write down notes that will help you decide which novel to choose. You will rank your choices after all reviews have been read.

Independent Novel Reading Circles Planning Guide and Reading Contract

Novel title:

Total # of pages:

Read the indicated pages by the following target dates:

- Read to page ______ by April 25
- Read to page ______ by May 5
- Read to page ______ by May 7
- Read to page ______ by May 13
- Finish the novel by May 15

You are responsible for completing the reading for each reading due date before you come to class each day. You will complete a different reading activity each day.

Each day in class, you will:

- Read quietly (10 min.)
- Complete an individual reading activity focused on practicing one or more Learning Skills in a way that helps you understand the text more deeply (20 min.)
- Participate in a group discussion to share what you analyzed in your reading activity (20 min.)

On each reading due date, you will have a different “role” to fulfill (see the list below). Each role will require you to analyze a specific aspect of the novel. You will share what you analyze with your group. Each student will complete each activity. This means all five roles in your packet must be thoroughly completed when you turn in your packet, regardless of whether or not you were in class the day the class completed it.

Character Captain/Setting Star

- Skill Practice: Establish Meaning

For this role you will provide at least one example of an element of characterization for each character who has been introduced in your novel so far. You will also describe and draw the setting of your novel.
Conflict Coordinator

Skill Practice: Interpret, Reflect

For this role you will identify and describe three (3) conflicts present in your novel.

Literary Luminary

Skill Practice: Identify Patterns, Be Creative

For this role you will identify one symbol, one example of imagery and one example of foreshadowing from your novel. You will then create a simile and a metaphor for two characters from your novel.

Thematic Thinker

Skill Practice: Investigate, Interpret, and Take a Position

You will read four passages from novels we have read in class this year. You will then pick one passage that you feel best fits with your independent novel. Using the passage and your current independent novel, you will complete the compare/contrast chart. Then, you will use the chart to determine common themes between the passage and your current novel.

Poetic Pop Star

Skill Practice: Be Creative, Compose

Create a free verse poem (a poem with no set rhyme scheme) from the point of view of one character about a conflict present in your novel. You can include lines from the novel in the poem.

Each student will complete each activity. This means all five roles in your packet must be filled out when you turn in your packet, regardless of whether or not you were in class the day the class completed it.

Your group will also complete a final project together: a movie pitch project and presentation. Each student will submit an individual project planning sheet, but present as a group.

I have read and understand the expectations for this independent novel unit.

Role 1: Character Captain

Skill Practice: Establish Meaning

Directions: In the chart below, please provide at least one example of an element of characterization for each character who has been introduced in your novel so far. After you complete the chart, label the character you believe is the protagonist with a P.

Role 2: Setting Star

Skill Practice: Establish Meaning

Directions: In the first row of the chart, please give details about the setting of your novel. Be specific. If you have multiple settings, please choose one setting to describe.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time period description:</th>
<th>Location description:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Below, please draw the setting of your novel. Label at least three parts of your drawing with specific quotations from the novel that help you understand the setting, “and cite them like this” (Author 2).
Role 3: Conflict Coordinator

Skill Practice: Interpret, Reflect

Directions: In the chart below, please identify and describe three (3) conflicts present in your novel. Fill out the middle column of the chart first.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Identify the cause of the conflict</th>
<th>Identify the conflict (include characters involved in the conflict)</th>

Role 4: Literary Luminary

Skill Practice: Identify Patterns, Be Creative

Directions: Complete the chart below by identifying at least one symbol, one example of imagery and one example of foreshadowing from your novel.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Literary element</th>

Directions: Read the definitions of simile and metaphor below. Then, create a simile for one character in your novel, and a metaphor for another character in your novel in the chart on the next page.

Simile – comparison between two unlike things using the words “like” or “as”

Metaphor – direct comparison between two unlike things without using the words “like” or “as”

<table>

</tbody>
</table>
Role 5: Thematic Thinker

Skill Practice: Interpret, Take a Position

Directions: Read the four passages from novels we have read in class this year. Pick one passage that you feel best fits with your independent novel. Using the passage and your current independent novel, complete the compare/contrast chart below. Then, use the chart to determine common themes between the passage and your current novel.

Chosen passage:
Re-read the passage and make some specific connections about the characters, setting, and conflicts shared between the passage and your independent novel. In the boxes below, show those connections by citing lines from both the passage and your independent novel.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category (character, conflict or setting?)</th>
<th>Lines from passage Cite them, “like this” (Author 2).</th>
<th>Lines from your independent novel Cite them, “like this” (Author 2).</th>

A theme is a central idea explored by a literary work or an author’s message about life. Based on the connections you made in the chart between the novel and the passage, what might be two common themes shared between your novel and the passage you chose? State the themes in the space below.

Theme 1 -

Theme 2 -
Role 6: Poetic Pop Star

Directions: Create a free verse poem (a poem with no set rhyme scheme) from the point of view of one character about a conflict present in your novel. Feel free to include lines from the novel in your poem, but be sure “to cite them if you do” (Author 2).

Character:

Conflict:

Include the following elements (in any order) in your free verse poem:

- Alliteration
- Metaphor
- Simile
- Visual imagery
- Auditory imagery
- Onomatopoeia
- Symbol

Write your poem below. After writing, please highlight and label each literary element you have included with a different color. Create a key above by highlighting the list above.
[EXAMPLE]

Movie Poster and Pitch Project

Your group has been contacted by 20th Century Fox Studios to design a movie poster to advertise an original movie based on your independent novel!

For this project you will work with your group to create and present a movie poster to sell the movie (think of it as a movie pitch)…remember the more people who are enticed to see the movie because of your poster, the more money 20th Century Fox will be willing to pay you in royalties.

Poster Planning

Complete all sections thoughtfully and carefully. Do not start working on your poster until all sections are complete. You will submit this sheet when you present.

Setting

Describe the setting of your independent novel (if there are multiple settings, choose one that you think is most representative of the whole novel):

Time:

Place:

At least two other important details:

What images could you draw or paste on the poster to represent the setting?
Cast of Stars

Choose at least three to five actual characters from your novel and pick an actor to portray each one. On the poster, make sure to include pictures of the actors and label the pictures with the actors’ names and the roles they will play in the movie.

Character 1 –

Brief description:

Choose an actor to portray this character in the movie:

Why did you choose this actor?

Character 2 –

Brief description:

Choose an actor to portray this character in the movie:

Why did you choose this actor?

Character 3 –

Brief description:

Choose an actor to portray this character in the movie:

Why did you choose this actor?

Character 4 –

Brief description:

Choose an actor to portray this character in the movie:

Why did you choose this actor?
Character 5 –

Brief description:

Choose an actor to portray this character in the movie:

Why did you choose this actor?

Symbol

Use one symbol to represent a theme or conflict present in your novel. What object could you draw or paste on your poster to portray this symbol?

What does the symbol represent? (Describe the theme or conflict.)

Theme Song

Choose a song that connects to the theme or conflict you included in your symbol category. Put the artist and title of your song on the poster. Bring a copy of the lyrics to turn in when you present the poster. A clip of the song must be played with the presentation, and you must explain \textit{why} you are using \textit{this} song with \textit{this} novel.

Write the artist and title of the song below:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>In the box below, include at least two lines from the lyrics of your song</th>
<th>Explain how these two lines connect to the theme or conflict by citing at least one quote from your novel</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tag Line

Include a tagline or catchphrase for your film. (E.g. for The Lord of the Rings the tag line was “One ring to rule them all”, or for Spiderman it was “Go for the ultimate spin”, or for Gladiator it was “A hero will rise”, etc.)

Write your tagline here:

Title

On the poster, include the title of your book as the title of your movie.

Part 3: Student Facing Materials

The following pages are templates for you to develop materials for your students. Follow the prompts to build a packet of student-facing materials for implementation.

- Complete all pages of the template, using your answers to the brainstorm and referring to the example project as needed. Any text in [brackets] will need to be edited by you, according to your project parameters.
- Decide if you will create reading deadlines or if you will develop target dates in collaboration with your students.
- Review the feedback template and edit according to your learning and skill goals.
- Implementation suggestion: plan a structure for reflection and feedback as students work in groups during class time (e.g. structured group check-ins/conferences, daily exit ticket reflections on the success/challenges of collaboration, etc.)

Directions: [Explain what students should do for this role after reading (see the list below for ideas on how to create each role). Consider including a table or other graphic organizer for each role for students to organize their notes and ideas. Use the 🤖 Active Learning Menu and 🎨 Differentiation infographic for templates and ideas!]

The list below includes ideas of how to create roles based on Opportunity Education's twelve Learning Skills 🧠.

1. Establish Meaning: create a role for students to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of foundational information

2. Ask Questions: create a role for students to ask questions about the text and come up with possible answers; students can share their questions with the group during group work time and discuss possible answers

3. Investigate: create a role for students to either investigate the text by looking for evidence to support a position or point of view, or conduct outside research to enhance their understanding of the context (historical, cultural, religious, etc.) of the text

4. Interpret: create a role for students to analyze evidence from the text

5. Identify Patterns: create a role for students to find similarities and differences and draw connections between different elements of the text (and/or other texts)

6. Be Creative: invite students to show what they know/have learned through visual arts or multimedia

7. Assess Arguments: invite students to evaluate points of view, evidence, and positions with attention to context and text features

8. Take a Position: invite students to develop a position about the text and support it with reasons and evidence from the text

9. Reflect: create a role for students to reflect personally on the text, through writing or visual arts
10. Collaborate: create a role for students to give and receive peer feedback

11. Compose: create a role for students to brainstorm, design, and produce a product that demonstrates knowledge and connects ideas

12. Share: invite students to choose a medium and appropriate audience and share a piece of work about the text
